

ISRAELI DEFENCE FORCE

Israeli infantry uniforms were a mix of old British khaki uniforms, French camouflage uniforms (mainly in the paratroopers and Golani Brigade), and new olive Israeli uniforms. Soldiers often had a mix of these with their jackets and trousers mismatched.

Green Grey (886), German Camo Beige (821) or Brown Violet (887)
Helmet

Yellow Green (881) or Khaki (988)
Uniform

Stone Grey (884) or Buff (976)
Webbing and Gaiters

Black (950) or Gunmetal Grey (863)
Rifle

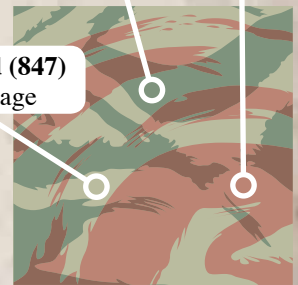

Beige Brown (875)
Rifle Woodwork

Black (950) or Grey Green (866)
Boots

US Tan Earth (874)
Camouflage

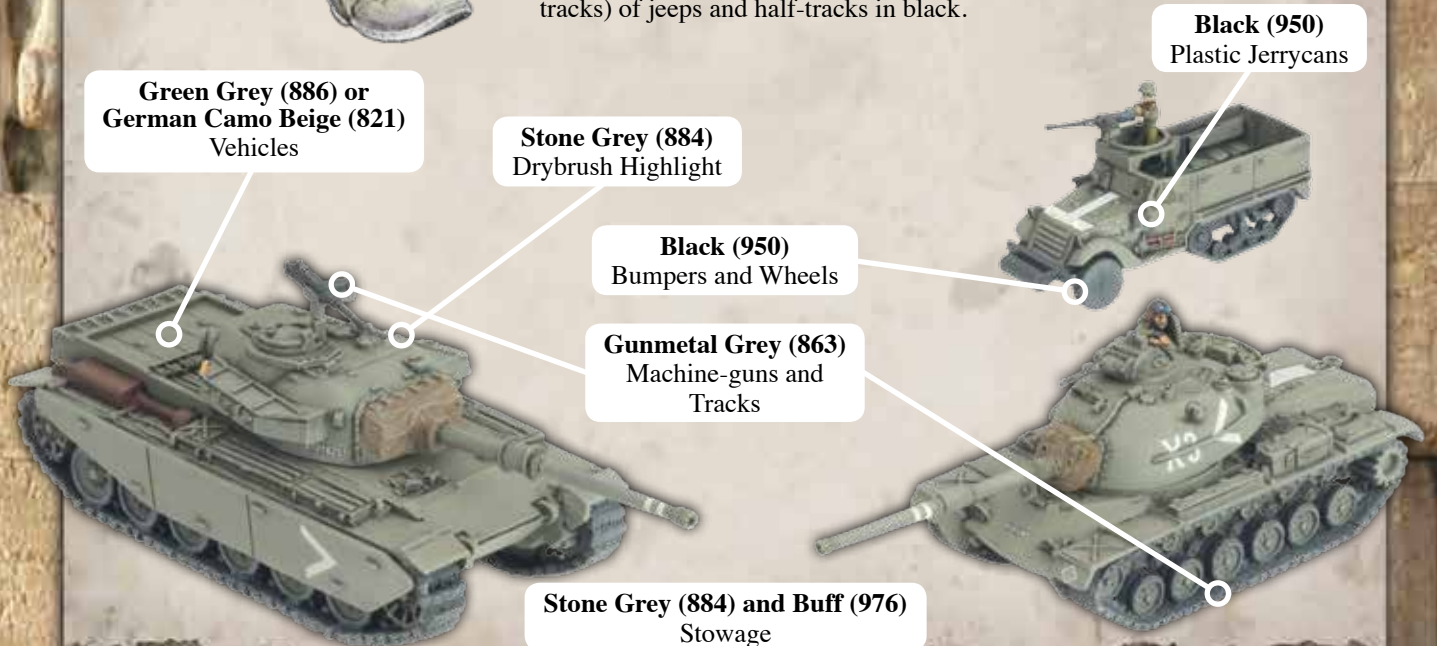

Reflective Green (890)
Camouflage

Dark Sand (847)
Camouflage

ISRAELI ARMOURED VEHICLES

Israeli vehicles were painted Sinai Grey, a greyish-greenish-brownish colour that was thought to provide a reasonable camouflage in the Sinai desert, the more vegetated West Bank, and the rocky Golan Heights. The actual colour of Sinai Grey is much debated as it seems to change colour with the light. Interestingly, the Israelis painted the bumpers and wheels (and tracks on half-tracks) of jeeps and half-tracks in black.

Green Grey (886) or German Camo Beige (821)
Vehicles

Stone Grey (884)
Drybrush Highlight

Black (950)
Bumpers and Wheels

Gunmetal Grey (863)
Machine-guns and Tracks

Stone Grey (884) and Buff (976)
Stowage

Black (950)
Plastic Jerrycans